PDI, Inc. Appoints Molecular Diagnostics Leader to Board of Directors

PARSIPPANY, N.J., October 30, 2013 - PDI, Inc. (Nasdaq: PDII) today announced that it has appointed molecular diagnostics industry veteran John M. Climaco, J.D., to its board of directors, bringing the board to seven members.

"As we continue to execute on our strategic vision of solidifying a position in the molecular diagnostics space, we welcome John's unparalleled business expertise in this market," said Nancy Lurker, chief executive officer of PDI, Inc. "John's role will be invaluable to the board as we continue to expand our footprint in this arena."

Mr. Climaco co-founded Axial Biotech, Inc., a venture-backed molecular diagnostics company specializing in spine disorders, in 2003, and served as the president, chief executive officer and board member until 2012. Under Mr. Climaco's leadership, the company partnered with companies including Medtronic, Johnson & Johnson and Smith & Nephew to successfully develop and commercialize Scoliscore™, the first molecular prognostic test in the orthopedic industry. Among other accolades, Orthopaedics This Week magazine recognized Scoliscore as the Best New Diagnostics Technology for Spine Care 2010, and the Utah Technology Council named Scoliscore as the 2009 Utah Innovation Award winner in biotechnology. In addition, Scoliscore and its benefits to patients have been featured in the New York Times, Chicago Tribune and on MSNBC, CNBC and many other media outlets.

Mr. Climaco currently serves as a director on the boards of DigiRad Corporation (Nasdaq: DRAD) and Perma-Fix Environmental Services, Inc. (Nasdaq: PESI). Previously, he practiced corporate and tax law for six years with Fabian & Clendenin in Salt Lake City. Earlier, he held the role of director of programming for Quokka Sports, a venture-backed online media company that went public in 1999. While with Quokka, Mr. Climaco helped to create and manage partnerships with Intel, Microsoft WebTV, NBC Sports and National Geographic. Mr. Climaco holds a Bachelor of Arts in philosophy, cum laude, from Middlebury College and a Juris Doctorate from the University of California, Hastings College of Law.

"I'm honored to join PDI's board at such a pivotal time in the company's evolution," said John Climaco. "I look forward to bringing my industry experience and operational perspective to help maximize the unique opportunities that PDI has both envisioned and begun to execute."
